Dear valued Harris MCD or Stratex Networks customer,

We are pleased to announce the formation of the largest independent provider of wireless transmission network solutions in the world. Today, the deal between Harris Corporation's Microwave Communications Division and Stratex Networks, Inc. closed to form Harris Stratex Networks, Inc. Our new company now holds a prominent place on the telecom horizon with combined annual revenue over $600 million, serving customers in over 150 countries. Look for us under the HSTX ticker on the NASDAQ Global Market and visit us at our new Web site at www.harrisstratex.com.

Selecting the best from both companies, we offer the highest level of technical expertise, the most complete product portfolio, the best customer service and the most extensive global presence of any wireless transport solution provider in the industry. Individually, we offered outstanding solutions. Together, Harris Stratex Networks delivers the best customer solutions and value in all global markets.

We continue to develop and sell products from both companies, with the primary goal of maintaining the high standard of quality that our customers have come to expect. Harris MCD customers can be confident we will continue to support and evolve the TRuepoint and NetBoss product lines and provide continuing support for products such as Constellation, MegaStar and Aurora. Stratex customers can be assured that we will continue to support and evolve the Eclipse and Eclipse Quattro product lines and provide continuing support for products such as Velox LE.

Also, rest assured that we are ready and eager from day one to do business with you. Please continue to work with your existing contacts, knowing that our full customer support structure is in place to serve your needs. Any modifications to our existing support structures will be made gradually, with the goal of making our solutions and customer service even better.

As Harris Stratex Networks, we will continue to provide best-in-business customer service. We have started that process by reaffirming our dedication to principles such as commitment to customers and delivering exceptional value as the foundation of our new vision and mission. Growing our relationship with you is our prime directive.

For customers with network-builds or expansions in process, we commit to visiting you and providing more detail about the merger and how we will work together going forward. For those with networks up and running, we commit to servicing your needs and keeping you informed. As always, contact your representative at any time if you have questions.
